

Reading Challenge App

Studies show that the number of words that students read correlates with academic success.

The Million Word Challenge is a new approach to Independent Reading to inspire and engage students as readers. The challenge has students tracking their word counts, rather than the number of books or levels.

The Million Word Challenge Online App is created to make the process easier for schools to implement and manage a reading challenge.

Inspire a love of reading!

Tailored Reading Program

Your school instance of the App is tailored to your school classes structure and branding. Along with individual student word counts, cumulative words counts are also recorded for the whole class, year level or house group.
